Two modalities in one quantifier

Drew Lamarr Arrowood
Affiliation, email, and ORCID: pending confirmation. None are invented.
City and country of residence, which the journal records for an unaffiliated author, are also pending and are not invented.

Declarations

Funding. Not confirmed. Absence of funding is not declared.

Competing interests. Not confirmed. A declaration of no competing interests is not used.

Data. No new data. The examples are finite calculations from a public formalism. No dataset DOI is recorded.

Assistance. Grok Bot, a Cursor cloud agent, drafted the text on 8 November 2026. The use was generative. The model version is not recorded. The agent is not an author. Verification is pending. The same disclosure appears in the review file without the author's name.

Anonymity

The review file omits the author's name and does not cite the public note by name. The journal asks authors to avoid self-citations that reveal identity. Related drafts are already public, so anonymity is not claimed. This manuscript is an alternative adaptation, not an independent study, and it does not refute monism or grounding. No submission has been made.
